WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

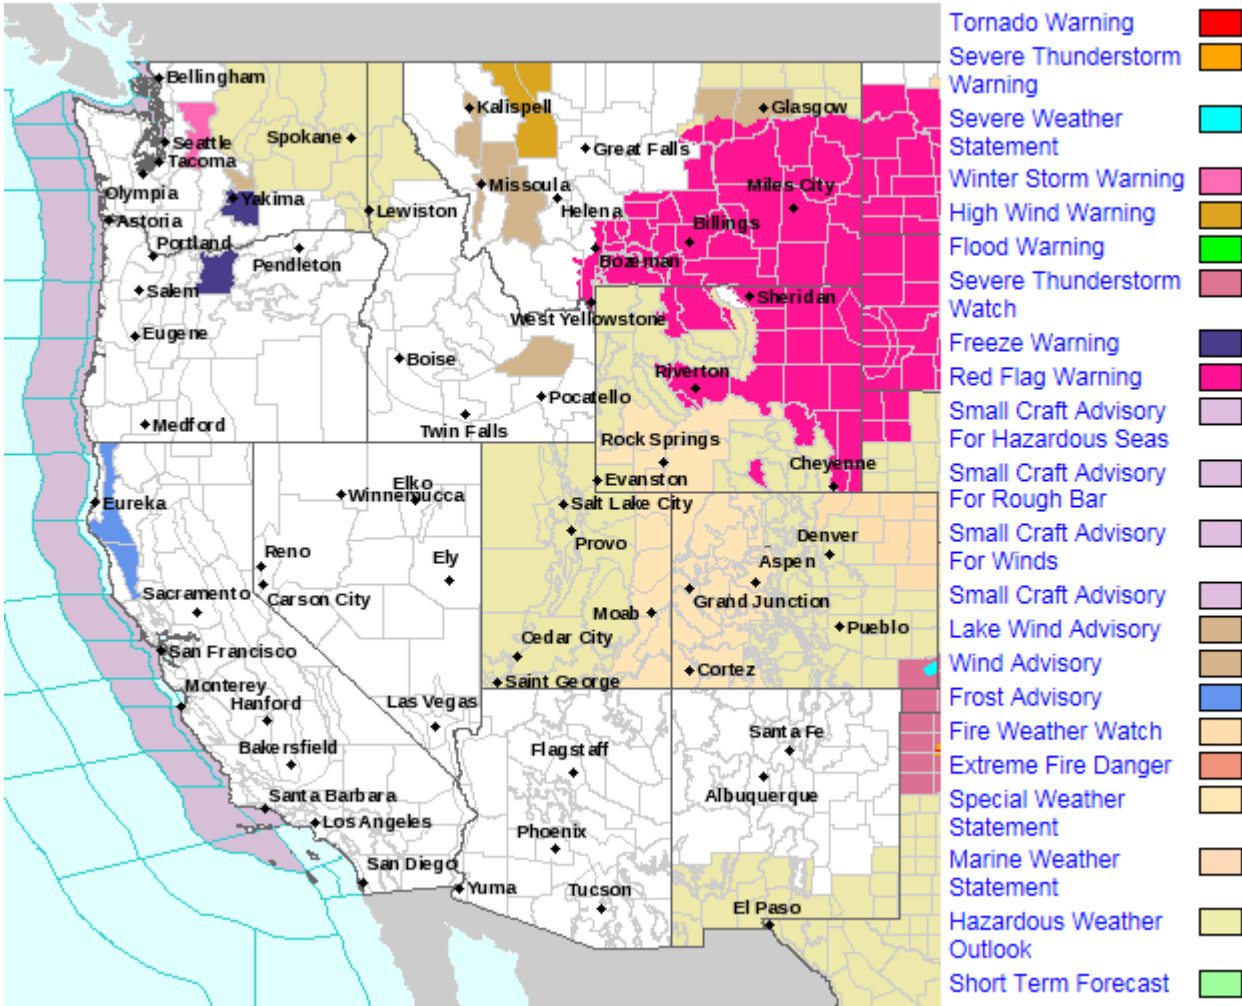

Northern Region

A weak weather system brushes far Northern California today bringing a slight chance of showers to the northern mountains. Cooler early next week as another weak system moves through bringing a slight chance of showers to the northern mountains Monday night into Tuesday.

Southern Region

Slight warming through Sunday will occur under weak high pressure with lower inland humidities. For Monday and Tuesday, a trough of low pressure moving inland to the north will bring stronger onshore flow with cooling, higher humidities, and gusty west winds in the mountains and deserts. For Wednesday and Thursday high pressure aloft and weak off shore flow will bring a warming trend with lower inland humidities followed by slow cooling for next weekend.
